

SAVE THE DATE

Western Collaborative Conservation Network invites you to attend:

WCCN's Inaugural "Confluence"

The Western Collaborative Conservation Network (WCCN) promotes & supports community-based collaborative conservation efforts to strengthen and sustain healthy landscapes, vibrant communities and thriving economies.

Confluence: a coming or flowing together, joining, meeting place, gathering, a point of mixing.

At The Confluence, members of community-based collaborative conservation groups, their conservation support organizations and partners (see list of participants below) will gather from across the West to:

- Connect to peers in interactive poster & open space sessions, to co-learn through shared case studies, network to discover & develop new collaborations, & build a stronger collective voice for collaborative conservation
- Convene in peer-to-peer & expert-led learning sessions to build collaboration skills and practice collaboration tools. Topics: finance, fundraising, storytelling, collaboration 101, facilitation, leadership, partnerships.
- Catalyze action in working sessions on critical regional capacity issues to build more support for on-the-ground conservation success. Sessions: public policy, regional funding capacity, organizational and collaborative capacity building.

The WCCN is comprised of:

- Private landowners, rural & agricultural communities, tribes
- Business and Industry
- Community-Based Collaborative Conservation leaders and practitioners
- State, sub-regional, and national conservation organizations
- Local, state, & federal land management agencies
- Academic institutions
- Conservation non-profits

March 10-12, 2020
Colorado State University

Contact:

Heather Knight, Associate Director of Practice, Center for Collaborative Conservation, heather.knight@colostate.edu
www.collaborativeconservation.org/program/practice/

Register Online Now

<https://conferencereg.colostate.edu/WCCNConfluence2020>
Travel Support available for CBCCs

Confluence 2020 Schedule

March 10:

12pm+: Participants start to arrive

1pm-4pm/4.30pm: Optional field trips - visit Big Thompson Watershed Coalition and Peaks to Peaks Water Fund

2pm-4pm: Optional Open Spaces for informal discussions on collaborative conservation topics

4.30pm: Orientation for event hosts, facilitators & volunteers

6.30pm: Welcome & Opening Reception - John Sanderson, Director Center for Collaborative Conservation; John Hayes, Dean of Warner College of Natural Resources; August Ritter, The Nature Conservancy; Kate Greenberg, CO Commissioner for Agriculture; and sponsor & co-convenor recognitions

March 11:

7am: Breakfast, Exhibitor & Poster setup & check in, silent auction opens 7.45am: Opening

8am: Welcome: CSU President Joyce McConnell

8.15am: Practitioner Plenary: Michellsey Benally, Conservation Legacy-Ancestral Lands Program

8.45am: Connecting Session #1

10.30am: Morning Break-screen CBCC impact videos

11am: Peer-to-Peer Learning Session #1

- How to craft an effective & impactful collaborative conservation story
- How to build capacity through mentoring, coaching and internship programs
- Nonprofit planning & management 101 for conservation collaboratives
- Tips for private individual, corporate & foundation fundraising
- Conservation Collaboratives 101: practical advice from your peers

12.00pm: Lunch-Live podcast-conservation practitioner leader panel: Tuda Libby Crews, Ute Creek Cattle Company; Denny Inverson, Blackfoot Challenge; Gary Severson, National Collaboration Cadre

1pm: Peer-to-Peer Learning Session #2

- What's the forecast? Budgeting and Planning for Conservation Funding
- Optimizing Social Media for Conservation
- Incorporating more diversity, equity and inclusion into your work
- Managing diverse and multiple partners in a collaborative
- Lessons Learned, Challenges, Solutions to Collaborating Across Landscape Conservation

2pm: Afternoon Break, Posters, Record your CBCC story via podcast, silent auction continues

2.30pm: Open Space Sessions & Capacity Building Working Sessions #1

- Sustainable Funding Strategies for Collaborative Groups
- Building capacity at the state level and sub-regional level to support collaborative efforts
- Potential New Tools for Financing Conservation
- How to build a pipeline of next-generation conservation leaders

4.15pm: Connecting Session #2 & Open Space Sessions

5.15pm: Break-sign up for podcast, silent auction continues

6.30pm: Dinner, awards, Live podcast with funding & policy conservation leaders: Bob Budd, Western Landowners Alliance; Tom Gougeon, Gates Family Foundation; Jim Levitt, Lincoln Institute of Land Policy

March 12:

7am: Breakfast & Check in & Silent Auction continues

8am: Welcome & Logistics

8:15am: Capacity Building Working Session #2

- How to Build Organizational Capacity & Effectiveness of Collaboratives
- Public Policy and the Positive Implications of Collaborative Processes
- New Collaboration Approaches
- Methods & Tools to Engage Collaborators and Enhance Conservation

9.45am: Morning Break-Silent auction ends

10.15am: Sharing Outcomes & Next Steps

11.15am: Confluence Evaluation & What's Next & Announce Silent auction winners 12pm: Ending Plenary - TBD and Join WCCN and Adios

12.30pm: Take down vendor tables/posters

12.30pm: Western Collaborative Conservation Network Meeting

12.30pm+: Optional Open Space meetings for conservation groups